JONES OF BIRMINGHAM, PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE TO THE LAST

BIRMINGHAM MAN, ACCUSED OF KIDNAPING LAWRENCE EVANS, PROSECUTED CASE IN EIGHT MINUTES.

Birmingham, Ala. April 4.—Walter Jones was banged in the jail yard shortly before noon Friday for the murder of Lawrence B. Evans. The condemned man made a short statement on the gallows, never mentioning the crime but saying that men had given false testimony against him. The drop fell at 11:55 a clock sharp and he was pronounced dead at 12:03 eight minutes later. The body was taken down at 12:17 and turned over to Life 101 who will prepare it for burial Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in Walker's Chapel Cemetery between Levee and Arcadia where the deceased's father and brother rest. There were a large number of men at the hanging but every one was sworn in as a deputy before in execution.

Jones went on the gallows with a smile. He appeared to be full of hope of going to a heavenly reward. Before going on the gallows he shook hands with Sheriff McAdory, Deputy Sheriff Suggs and other friends. On the gallows he was accompanied by Rev. J. S. Hanes of the Church of God of North Birmingham. He looked around at the big crowd in the jail yard and smiled from time to time.

When asked whether he wanted to make a statement he said:

"I don't feel that I have very much to say. I feel that God has heard me, and that I am going to heaven. It is my duty to do it. I don't feel that I ought to say anything against any one. The important thing is that there is salvation. Jesus Christ is my friend in trouble. I have found that out. I have put my trust in God."

He hesitated a little and then started again.

"I don't believe in capital punishment but because I am going to be hanged in the Old Testament there are several things justifying it. My advice to all is to serve God and do right. I don't feel one bit nervous."

He called Rev. Mr. Hanes to his side and whispered something. Then he said:

"I want to tell you all it is not the man who looks like he is telling the truth who is doing it. It is a minister. Mr. Curt Shugart was a witness against me. He must have known what he was telling, or Mr. Ad Hudson made us make the confession. He made us promise I feel that is all I want to say."

BODY OF MORGAN IS ABOARD LINER

Hayre France April 4.—Military honors were paid here today to the memory of J. Pierpont Morgan when the body of the dead financier arrived from Rome. The special funeral train reached Hayre at 6:45 o'clock.

The deputy prefect of the Seine Inferieure in accordance with instructions from the minister of foreign affairs received the body and transferred it an hour later to the French Liner France which sails Saturday for New York. The coffin was transferred from the train to the ship the military honors due Mr. Morgan's rank as one of the commanders of the Legion of Honor were paid by troops from the local garrison.

A large suite has been set aside for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Miss Helen Hamilton and other members of the Morgan party who will accompany the remains across the Atlantic.

The funeral train left Paris at midnight making the run to Hayre in seven hours and forty five minutes without incident.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT BECOMES A BRIDE

New York April 4.—Miss Ethel Roosevelt daughter of Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt was married at noon today in Christ Lighthouse Church to Dr. Richard A. Derby in deference to the wishes of the family there was no elaborate wedding only intimate friends and relatives being present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George F. Talmadge, rector of the church.

Those of the wedding guests who were not already staying at Sagamore Hill were brought to Oyster Bay on a special train at 11 a.m. in time for the ceremony. A long line of carriages took the house guests and the bridal party from Sagamore Hill to the church then back for a reception after the ceremony.

The entire arrangements were in contrast with the elaborate detail which attended the wedding of Miss Roosevelt's half sister Miss Alice T. Roosevelt to Congressman Nicholas Longworth in the White House while the bride and groom were president. The church in Sagamore Hill however were prettily decorated.

Miss Roosevelt had five attendants. Miss Helen Coster daughter of Mrs. Charles Foster, Miss Josephine Osborn, Miss Margaret Tucker, Miss Derby a relative of the bridegroom and Miss Cornelia Livingston.

Roger Derby was his brother's best man. The ushers were Archie Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt's brother, James C. Derby, a brother of the bridegroom, Edmund P. Rogers, Jun. C. Waterbury, Dr. Henry Jones and Nelson P. Doersert of Boston. Mr. Derby and his bride will sail for Europe tomorrow.

Mrs. J. V. Harrison accompanied by Miss Annie Laurie Harris of this city will leave tonight for her home in Hartford where they will join an auto party en route to Montgomery.

LESSON TEXT

22 And Jacob went near unto Isaac his father and he felt him and said: The voice is Jacob's voice but the hands are the hands of Esau.

23 And he discerned him not because his hands were hairy as his brother Esau's hands: so he blessed him.

24 And he said: Art thou my very son Esau? And he said: I am.

25 And he said: Bring it near to me and I will eat of my son's venison that my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him and he did eat and he brought him wine and he drank.

26 And his father Isaac said unto him: Come near now and kiss me.

27 And he came near and kissed him: and he smelled the smell of raiment and blessed him and said: The smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed.

28 Therefore God give thee the dew of heaven and the fatness of the earth and plenty of corn and wine.

29 Let people serve thee and nations bow down to thee: be lord over thy brethren and let thy mother's son bow down to thee: cursed be every one that curseth thee and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

30 And it came to pass as soon as Isaac had made an end of blessing Jacob and Jacob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of Isaac his father that Esau his brother came in from his hunting.

31 And he also had savoury meat and brought it unto his father. Let my father rise and eat of his son's venison that thy soul be blessed.

32 And Isaac said: Where is thy brother Jacob that thou hast brought him? And he said: I am this thy firstborn Esau.

33 And Isaac trembled very exceedingly and said: Why wast thou that hath taken venison and brought it to me and have eaten of all before thou comest and have blessed him? And he said: I found him.

34 And when Isaac heard the words of his father he cried with a great and exceeding bitter cry and said unto his father: Bless me even as also O my father.

HARTWELL DOUGLAS NAMED CONVICT BUREAU PRESIDENT

FARMERS CONDEMN GIVING OF PRIZES

First World War April 4.—The executive committee of the Farmers Education and Cooperative Union at Wednesday's session formally condemned prize farming as carried on in this state during the last few years and in a resolution considered it demagogic in the industry.

According to the estimate of the Farmers Union over a quarter of a million dollars have been spent in Texas in prize farming during the past five years and the recognition which many business men have given prize farming, has caused the union to officially review its effects and to point out more practical lines of cooperation. The committee expressed its disapproval of the practice and its educational value is too limited to be of any practical use. It turns the mind of the child from practical to fancy farming. Its effect is immoral while the cost of growing a prize crop exceeds the value of products. It gives the occupation of farming a childlike appearance and acknowledges the farmers as delinquent feeble and incompetent. We condemn the assembling of the best products of the farm in a community for study and comparison of educational value and small prizes offered after the crop is grown as no objectionable but the offering of large prizes before the crop is planted is a thing damaging to agriculture for the reasons above stated.

It is prize not prizes we want. Only one farmer can be benefited by a prize but a half million per cent by increase in price.

The important material assistance that business men can render is in increasing the value of our products while in the hands of the producer or through a more intelligent and systematic method of marketing and thereby making our securities more stable.

Financial paper issued upon a basis of cotton for a reasonable amount is as good security as a government bond yet it receives little or no recognition upon the market although it may have double the interest rate. The value of our staple crop can be increased at least 20 per cent without increasing the cost to the consumer by a more business like method in marketing.

Twenty of fresh strawberries at 20 cents per quart. Duesary Grocery Co.

A Stephen of Midland City was a well known visitor to Dothan yesterday.

Reduction in the salaries of prison physicians and the removal of several deputy wardens have been made by Mr. Welborn. It is possible that the entire method of purchasing supplies will be radically changed but this feature will be left to the discretion of Mr. Douglas.

FLOOD THREATENS MEMPHIS NOW

JOHNSON WILL STAY
A rumor preceding the report of Underwood's and Clayton's possible candidacy for the senate was to the effect that Senator Johnson, because of failing health, had decided to retire from the senate at the end of his term. The Register is permitted to quote the senator as saying: "I leave for Washington in a few days. I am in better health than I have been in several years and feel more vigorous. I shall be in the race to the finish and my opponents will know that I have energy enough to make it most interesting. I am not a quitter and I should not run if I doubted my ability to give my state and people good service. If I ever come to a contrary opinion however I will myself announce the fact and not leave it to my enemies politically. — Mobile Register

INSURANCE AGAINST SICKNESS.
Harriman Bros. & Co. of Philadelphia have offered to give every man in their employ 15 cents every time he takes a bath. Two thirds of the 700 workers at the plant already have accepted the offer. The baths are limited to one a day for each employee, to be taken when, going off duty at night. The company furnishes nickel plated equipment, towels, soap, showers, needles, etc. When the bath is over the employee gets a check from the attendant and at the end of a week he comes through at 15 cents a piece. It is figured that if all the men adopt the plan the total cost of the concern in bonuses will be $34,700 a year. The idea was suggested to the firm by Dr. Francis D. Patterson, former chief police surgeon of Philadelphia, who has charge of the welfare department of the plant. Cheap Insurance Against Sickness is what he calls the 15 cent bath plan. — Birmingham Age Herald

GOOD HEALTH'S VALUE

Dr. Dowling, in his address here Sunday, emphasized the economic value of good health, to state and community. In France, for example, the average life has been lengthened five years by enforcement of sanitary measures. This means five years for forty millions of people. Only the half of that number are active, and for but one half of the added time, France gains fifty million individual work years in the five years one year for every man woman and child in the country. The economy of the expenditure to obtain such a result is manifest.

View the matter from another angle that of the cost entailed by disease. The average cost to a citizen from malaria is estimated at $400,000, and in Kentucky from typhoid fever $968,750 and in Indiana from typhoid fever (including time lost by the sick, cost of medicines of nurses and of medical treatment) $5,000,000. These are estimates of cost of one form of disease. Malaria and typhoid however are preventable diseases and the money amounts above mentioned are pure waste. If we take Florida as the example, with 400,000 annual waste from malaria an expenditure of four million dollars would be economical if it would do away with malaria, yet such is the present lack of general knowledge of the economic value of sanitation that legislatures can not be induced to appropriate more than a few thousand dollars for health protection. In the face of present day science and accurate understanding of the results from sanitation such negligence is inexplicable except on the score of legislative ignorance. Dr. Dowling had this ignorance to combat and overcome in Louisiana when he was elected president of the state board of health in 1910 and he went at the task with his coat off and his sleeves rolled up. He canvassed the state with the disease fighting force and conducted a general campaign of education until he attracted Louisiana from one end to the other and brought the popular sentiment to his aid. There is very little now that Dr. Dowling asks for in Louisiana that is refused. The people there recognize what his program means for them.

The doctors' coming here is an act of pure brotherly interest. He is an Alabamian and we are proud of it. He wants Alabama to abolish malaria typhoid and other preventable diseases. The annual loss to this state from such diseases is $50,000,000. He says: "If we should spend this amount just one year's loss in preventing like losses each year in the years to come would it not be a good investment? The question answers itself."

Of this one thing be sure. We shall not get into the right condition we shall not remove the incubator of bad health and this consequent burden of adverse adjustment our state gets from the presence of preventable diseases unless we do spend an adequate amount of money for scientific warfare against the diseases and when we get educated up to doing this we shall do it and experience the benefit.

Meantime we thank Dr. Dowling for coming to tell us our duty in the program. We hope that what he has said may make a lasting impression upon the minds of any people.

Yes, Funny

When Comer was governor and the confederate pensions were omitted for a quarter on account of lack of funds, certain papers in the State raised a mighty howl. Comer was caricatured as robbing the worthy old soldiers. And now when the full pensions are shut off by the O'Neal administration, on account of a lack of funds certain papers in the state about it. And there had been no fancy stunt pulled off during Comer's term. Funny how things shape up isn't it? — Troy Messenger

Wonderful School System

The Pulladon Mountain Home claims that it was the first paper in Alabama to advocate the abolition of the agricultural and normal schools of the state. It might be well to centralize these institutions but abolish all of them would be the opinion of this paper. It is exceedingly unwise. At present Alabama needs 6000 new teachers every year, and the schools we now have cannot supply the need with the result that every year we have to go to other states to man our schools. — Anniston Star and Hot Blast. No one is advocating abolishing all the agricultural or normal schools. The contention is that the present system is wasteful. There are too many of them. They are so numerous that the standard of efficiency cannot be raised in any of them. What it should be. Normal and agricultural instruction is practically lost there are better schools than Alabama's but the disunion proved fatal. — deca Mountain Home

Blame Examination

Governor O'Neal has been criticized for the delay of fabrication of his ex-Governor Comer but it appears to us that at least some of the responsibility is on the State examiners who have from time to time been directed to investigate the convict department. Did they do their duty? They must show that they have found and reported these irregularities to the Governor before all the responsibility can be laid at his door. The Governor has made many mistakes in many of his appointments and it may be the same of them as it is the case then. — Examiners of public accounts. — Southern Democrat

The Burning Question.

What can you do?

Go into a burning house today
Apply for a position and you will not be asked: What do you know?
but: What can you do?

You may have been well drilled in Greek Latin History Algebra Geometry and all the general branches of education but: Can you do the work the world wants done?

Can you write a good business
hand?

Can you write a good business
hand?

Can you add a column of figures rapidly and correctly?

Can you draw up correctly checks drafts and other forms of communial paper?

If you cannot do these things you will have to give way to those who can.

At the time there have been such a demand for well trained sales help. Never were business under-prises conducted on a greater scale or required more skillful management. Mediocrity or indifferent service will no longer be tolerated. It can only work well done in a possible. Business men have no time to instruct their employees in duties which a proper education would qualify them to discharge. It is now the help that comes to them thoroughly prepared to do the work required of them. We know this requirement of the business world because we keep in touch with modern business establishments.

We have the facilities for supplying what the business world demands.

Our course of study is modern and is approximately as follows:
Arithmetic. We cannot expect to secure nor desire it. The purpose of the public unless we do thorough work for the sales of our school is to be able to do the work of a salesman. We will with us for that higher education will be able to do a still more thorough work than we can do.

"For woman is not undeveloped man,
But diverse, could we make her as the man,
Sweet love were slain, his dearest bond is this
Not like to like, but like in difference.
Yet in the long years like what they grow;
The man be more of woman, she of man,
He gains in sweetness and in moral height,
Nor lose the wrestling that a throw the world,
She mental breadth, not fall in childhood care,
Nor lose the childlike in the larger mind,
Like perfect music she set unto noble words;
And so these twin, upon the skirts of time,
Sit side by side, full-sum'd in all their powers.

Then comes the staidier Eden back to men;
Then reign the world's great brutes chaotic and calm;
Then springs the crowning race of human-kind."
—From Tennyson's Princess.

For Miss Crawford.—

Yesterday afternoon was the occasion of a pretty and appropriate pre-nuptial affair at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Wood, when she entertained in honor of Miss Lillian Crawford, whose marriage will be the event of next Wednesday.

The apartments which are decorated in soft shades of brown, made an artistic background for the vase and bowls of pink roses which were used in lavish profusion. Mrs. Wood, Miss Crawford and Mrs. Cleveland Hinkley met the guests at the door ushering them to the punch table, which was banded with pink roses, where Miss Maude Crawford presided.

In the dining room three tables were arranged for nations in the living room twelve of the guests played bridge. Over the head table, where the honoree and Miss Ida Reid, another April bride, were seated throughout the afternoon, was suspended a white wedding bell decorated with pink roses and tulle gracefully arranged in shower effect. At the close of the bridge games Miss Crawford, who was prettily gowned in lace over blue, was presented with an exquisite corsage bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and Miss Mayme Pateloth with a silver deposit vase.

The dainty refreshments served at the close of the afternoon further carried out the color scheme in the tempting pink ices and heart-shaped cakes.

New Century Club Notice.—
Mrs. Trawick will lead the Lesson for next Tuesday and will question on Chapters 15, 16 and 17 of Mexico.

Miss Frances Strother left this morning for Fort Valley, Ga., where she will be one of Miss Maude Slap's bridesmaids.

Reciprocity Day of Dothan Study Club.—

Reciprocity Day of the Dothan Study Club was very prettily celebrated at the palatial home of Mrs. Lillian Crawford on West Main St. yesterday afternoon. The spacious rooms were decorated with flowering plants and ferns and gave an air of spring time to the scene.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Gellerstedt, Mrs. Ellson, Mrs. N. Rhum, and Mrs. Lewis, and taken to the library by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. T. Eddy, and Mrs. Black, where they were served to punch by Mesdames Gelson and W. Watford. Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Lillian Crawford, Mrs. Olin Kirkland, Miss Alice Watford, Mrs. Ethel Williams, Mrs. J. S. Sherman, and Miss Florrie Malone. The guests were then seated by Mrs. W. J. Renfree and Mrs. L. G. Y. Baker.

The club and friends were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Olin Kirkland of Montgomery who read a paper on "A Comparative Study of Browning and Tennyson." Mrs. Kirkland received the prize at the State Federation of Women's Clubs on this paper and it was very well written. She had the untiring interest of all by her splendid delivery and melodious voice and created within every one present a desire to make a deeper study of these two great writers. The club deemed it very fortunate to be able to have Mrs. Kirkland present at this meeting and to lend her inspiration to the earnest workers of our city.

The other well rendered numbers were a piano solo by Mrs. Ethel Williams, Vocal Solo "My Little Pink Rose," by Mrs. Gellerstedt. A reading "Evelyn Hope" by Mrs. Ford.

Each club in the city was represented. The Harmony Club by Miss Florrie Malone, St. Cecilia Club by Mrs. S. Williams, Civic Club by Mrs. Hunter and Twentieth Century Club by Mrs. John Flowers; each spoke a few words of what their clubs were doing.

After the program the guests enjoyed a social hour and were served in ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Lillian Crawford is president of this club and showed her aptness and ability by her speeches and address of welcome. The meeting was an entire success and an inspiration to every one present.

TURKS LAY CLAIM TO ANOTHER VICTORY

Constantinople, April 4.—The Turkish war office today lays claim to another victory over the Bulgarians yesterday. According to an official announcement the Bulgarians were defeated and driven back at Tchaoukche and Kostelink, two points on the Chatalja lines.

PICKS JOHNSTON AND COMER TO WIN

Montgomery, April 4.—State Senator Charles M. Sherrod, of Lawrence county, who is in Montgomery picks Johnston for the United States senate and Comer for the governorship, as the winners in the two great political events of next year.

"Senator Johnston has made good and he is entitled to another term," he said. "Captain Hubson has already fallen down in his attempt to bring about the great coalition, and I believe he will fall in his efforts to dislodge Senator Johnston. The Tennessee Valley is strong for the Jefferson county statesman."

Senator Sherrod in speaking of the race for Governor, said: "I have never voted for Governor Comer, but I am going to vote for him in the coming race. Lawrence county, as well as the surrounding counties, will go for Mr. Comer."

Senator Sherrod served in the House during Governor Comer's term as chief executive and very often he disagreed with Governor Comer, but he declares that of the candidates so far mentioned, Governor Comer is his choice.

Senator Sherrod declares that while he sees no immediate need of a legislative session, he would not object to coming back to Montgomery during the unusual season should an extra session become necessary.

AT THE SENN-SATION THEATRE

The Macon Telegraph of March 28th says:

Clem Hackney's Marionettes now playing at the Majestic Theatre heads the vaudeville with an act that for cleanliness, cleverness and neatness, is far above anything ever seen here this season. An act of this kind is far out of the ordinary, and twenty minutes of such clever performances as the Marionettes afforded on a miniature stage seems to be only a minute or so, so refreshing are the actions of these cleverly manipulated little ones.

This act can be seen at the Senn-Sation today, afternoon and night. Be sure and bring the children for this is something that they will enjoy seeing.

VANDIVER FOUND NOT GUILTY OF ROWAN MURDER

Montgomery, Ala., April 4.—Henry Vandiver, charged with murder in connection with the assassination of Sloan Rowan, was acquitted by a jury here at 11 o'clock this morning.

C. Walter Jones, who fired the fatal shot, was a witness against Vandiver and swore that Vandiver instigated the crime. Jones was executed here today and never lived to know the effect of his testimony. The trial of Vandiver has lasted exactly one week.

Four speeches were made yesterday, two by the defense and two by the state. The state based its case on the testimony of C. Walter Jones, who was hanged early this morning for the actual killing of Rowan, and who swore Vandiver drove him to commit the crime. Much of his testimony was corroborated. Just before the trial was concluded Governor O'Neal went on the stand and contradicted statements made by the defendant just an hour before.

In their arguments the defense declared Jones was simply grasping for the last straw of hope when he accused Vandiver of conspiring with him, holding that Jones believed his charges might induce Governor O'Neal to commute his sentence to life imprisonment. They further argued that Jones had entered insanity as one of his pleas at the time of his trial, and that it would not be unreasonable to believe him still insane.

His Wife Is Present.

Members of Vandiver's family attended him all through the trial, but it was not until the last day that his wife was present. Also his mother.

and sister were in the court room prosecuting Jones and others in connection with some person cases Thursday to hear arguments. Vandiver is a member of a wealthy family of high social standing, his father, who died three or four years ago, ranking as a millionaire and being a leader in church circles.

Rowan was killed at the union station at Montgomery the night of July 16, Jones discharging both barrels of a shot gun into his body. The dead man had been active in his case.
